Two Steps To The Moon

New Eye Cure

A famous eye specialist in New York City tells of a new use of electrochemistry for cures in such ailments as inflammation of the iris, loss of color sense, ulcers, and diabetic blindness.

Making use of the well-known scientific fact that electricity can carry negatively charged particles in solution to a positive electrode, or vice versa, the eye-doctor is able to convey drugs for the eye by means of a very weak electric current passing through a very weak solution of such drugs as penicillin, zinc sulfate, histamine and many others. Even old age hardening of the arteries of the eye can be helped with electrochemistry.

This is accomplished by using an electric current so mild it cannot be felt and a drug like niacinamide, which dilates the blood vessels of the eye, thus restoring to a marked degree the sensitivity of the retina.

Centipede Frogs

A Professor of Zoology at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio reports strange goings-on in a farm pond in that state.

There seems to be a rompage in the chromosomes or germ plasma of the resident bullfrogs. More than 20 of the bass-voiced creatures have sprouted from three to eight legs each.

Says the Professor, "Of course multiple limbs on frogs have been produced in the laboratory, but such a wholesale sprouting in a state of nature is surprising."

True enough, but what the Professor doesn't seem to have mentioned is that atomic scientists have recently warned us that the air we breathe has about reached the saturation point for safety from radioactivity. Beyond that, say the savants, man's genes may become affected. So the question arises: "Has the earth's atmosphere already become so radioactive that the frogs are changing. If so, we can be thankful that the frogs are sprouting multiple legs instead of extra throats."

According to the Space Flight Committee of the American Rocket Society, eager beavers who want to set in motion the first found trip to the moon are going to have to first take two steps to get there.

Step No. 1 is going to be on the back of a "Mouse." But feminine readers should not get nervous. The letters of "Mouse" really stand for "minimum orbital unmanned satellite, earth."

In short, earth man, within the next year or so, will be able to send a tiny unmanned rocket into space to an orbit around the earth beyond the pull of gravity. This artificial, man-made moon at an altitude of about 300 miles will be able to carry about 40 pounds of scientific equipment, such as Geiger counters to measure the intensity of cosmic radiation.

This man-made satellite, circling the earth once every two hours, will also carry photo and X-ray counters to spy on the sun, and a big thermometer to tell us how hot and cold it gets up there.

It won't be long now before the Celestial Travel Bureau will ask, "Round trip to Luna, anyone?"

TIME SCOPE

THE TIME SCOPE, A MACHINE THAT BRINGS HISTORY AND THE PAST TO THE SPACE CADETS. IS USED FOR STUDY AT SPACE ACADEMY...

A LONG TIME AGO, BACK IN THE YEAR 1627, ONE OF QUEEN ELIZABETH'S MOST DARING SEA ROVERS BECAME THE FATHER OF A SON - ROBERT BOYLE.

AT THE AGE OF 17, ROBERT BOYLE'S FATHER DIED, LEAVING HIM A GREAT FORTUNE.

I SHALL GIVE MY LIFE AND MY FORTUNE TO THE STUDY OF SCIENCE.

WITH THE HELP OF HIS FRIEND ROBERT HOOKE, BOYLE BUILT A VACUUM PUMP... WHICH LED TO HIS DISCOVERY OF BOYLE'S LAW SHOWING THAT GASES CAN BE COM-PRESSED AND BE MADE TO OCCUPY LESS SPACE UNDER PRESSURE!

AMONG THE MANY SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERIES BOYLE MADE WAS HIS PROOF THAT SOUND WAS CARRIED BY AIR... AND THAT WE COULD HEAR NOTHING IN A VACUUM... OR IN SPACE.

MOST LEARNED MEN BELIEVE AIR CARRIES SOUND... WE HAVE PROVED IT!

NOW SPACE CADETS, YOU'VE JUST SEEN A LITTLE BIT OF THE EXCITING HISTORY OF SCIENCE! KEEP THIS INFORMATION IN A SCIENCE SCRAPBOOK... IT'S GOING TO COME IN HANDY IN YOUR STUDIES.

BEWARE, AVALANCHE

Meteor Or Meteorite

by Joe Gena

Do you happen to know the difference between a meteor and a meteorite? If not, you might ask the lady in Alabama, who has the distinction of being the first known person in recorded history who was ever struck by a meteorite.

That's the right name for it, for a meteor is burned up in space before it lands, but a meteorite is more practical. It comes down to earth out of the clouds.

The one that landed in Alabama the other day was o-bout eight inches in diameter, plunged through the roof of the lady's house and hit her on the head and the hip.

A helicopter crew from Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, flew to the lady's home to examine the celestial visitor and said the meteorite would be taken to Air Force laboratories in Washington.

The lady is now demanding the return of the meteorite, claiming that the government had no right in taking her property.

If you don't want to end your life, in the deep freeze of an avalanche, science has come up with some helpful suggestions:

1. While one cannot as yet control thunder, one can control mass yodeling and the use of explosives and loud laughter.

2. If the surface of old snow is at least two feet thick, covering rocks and bushes with a slick glaze and the slope is 30 degrees or more then watch out for the slide of new snow, which has nothing to hold on to. 12 inches or more of new snow is dangerous.

3. While damp new snow holds better than dry on top of old slick snow, if the new snow moisture content is more than 10%, then it becomes dangerous because its weight increases faster than its stick-to-itiveness.

4. If wind action is more than 15 miles per hour, it will cut the base support of overlying snow and trigger an avalanche.

5. Most dangerous condition of all is from very wet snow. Dry or powdery snow is the least hazardous.

Puzzle In India

India with her population of over 360 million people is really on a spot. Although science has decreased her infant death rate to 123 per 1000 as compared with 29 per 1000 in the United States, it hasn't been able to teach her farmers how to raise enough food to stave off chronic famine. And to make matters worse her birth rate of 27 per 1000 is still the highest in the world.

India's public health measures also have lowered the death rate, although 45% of all Indians die before they reach the age of 10.

India is planning on increase of seven million tons of food raised by 1956, but the food deficit for the population in that year will still be about seven million.
